PROBLEM/ISSUE STATEMENT:

On January 21, 2020, the first reported case of COVID-19, a respiratory disease that can result in serious illness or death caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus, occurred in Washington State in Snohomish County. On February 28, 2020, Public Health - Seattle and King County announced the first King County and United States death due to COVID-19 in Kirkland, WA. This public health emergency necessitates activation of the City of Shoreline Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP) and the utilization of emergency powers granted pursuant to State law (RCW 38.52.070(2) and RCW 38.52.110(1)) and Chapter 2.50 SMC. BACKGROUND

On January 21, 2020, the first reported case of COVID-19 in Washington State occurred in Snohomish County and on February 28, 2020, Public Health - Seattle and King County (Public Health) announced the first King County and United States death due to COVID-19 in Kirkland, WA. COVID-19 is a respiratory disease that can result in serious illness or death caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus, a new strain of coronavirus that had not been previously identified in humans, and can easily spread from person to person. The US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) identifies the potential public health threat posed by COVID-19, both globally and in the United States, as "very high" and has advised that person-to-person spread of COVID-19 will continue to occur globally, including within the United States, the State of Washington, King County, and the City of Shoreline.

On January 30, 2020, the International Health Regulations Emergency Committee of the World Health Organization declared COVID-19 a public health emergency of international concern, and on January 31, 2020, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services declared a public health emergency for COVID-19. On February 29, 2020, Washington State Governor Jay Inslee proclaimed a public health emergency for COVID-19 in Washington State. As of March 4, 2020, 31 have tested positive for COVID-19 in King County and eight in Snohomish County and a total of ten (10) deaths have been reported in King County.

Having reviewed the present circumstances, and in consideration of available information from governmental sources, the City Manager has determined that COVID-19 has caused a local public health emergency for the City of Shoreline. This determination was made due to nearby deaths and serious infections, and that it may have increased impact on the life and health of Shoreline residents, the local business economy, and City services.

These conditions constitute an emergency for the City of Shoreline as defined by Shoreline Municipal Code (SMC) Section 2.50.020(B), which includes circumstances that demand immediate action to preserve public health and protect life and has warranted the governor declaring a state of emergency, thereby necessitating activation of the City of Shoreline Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP) and the utilization of emergency powers granted pursuant to State law (RCW 38.52.070(2) and RCW 38.52.110(1)) and Chapter 2.50 SMC.

On March 4, 2020, the City Manager reported her intent to make this declaration to the Shoreline City Council.

DISCUSSION

Cities have broad authority under state law to take actions necessary to protect public health as derived in the Washington State Constitution. In order to prepare for, prevent, and respond to COVID-19, the City Manager's Local Declaration of a Public Health

Emergency authorizes the City to take necessary measures as authorized pursuant to SMC 2.50.060(H), RCW 38.52.070(2), and RCW 39.04.280.

- SMC 2.50.060(H) outlines the City Manager's power to issue a proclamation of local emergency. The proclamation authorizes the city to take necessary measures to combat a disaster; protect persons, property, and natural resources; provide emergency assistance to victims of the disaster and exercise powers authorized in RCW 38.52.070.
- RCW 38.52.070(2) waives the requirements of competitive bidding and public notice with reference to any contract relating to the City's lease or purchase of supplies, equipment, personal services or public works as defined by RCW 39.04.010, or to any contract for the selection and award of professional and/or technical consultants
- RCW 39.04.280 allows the City to exempt competitive bidding requirements in the event of an emergency.

The City Manager's local emergency declaration authorizes each City department to take necessary measures and exercise the above powers in light of the demands of a dangerous and escalating emergency situation without regard to time consuming procedures and formalities otherwise normally required by law, excepting constitutional mandates.

The City Manager has used the emergency declaration to authorize one expense related to supporting continuity of operations, which is increased information technology support for a minimum of three weeks. This is estimated to cost the City $5,000. The City is also exploring the possibility of increasing our conference call capabilities, though staff does not yet have a cost associated with this. With the Washington State declaration of a health emergency, local COVID-19 response efforts may be eligible for state or federal reimbursement.
