REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS (RFP)

CITY OF SPOKANE BROWNE'S ADDITION LOCAL REGISTER HISTORIC DISTRICT AND DESIGN STANDARDS DEVELOPMENT

The City/County of Spokane Historic Preservation Office invites proposals for the creation of a Spokane Register of Historic Places nomination form for the National Register District Browne's Addition Neighborhood and development of design standards for the neighborhood. All responses to this RFP will be evaluated by the City/County of Spokane and the Spokane Historic Landmarks Commission. This project is being funded in part by a grant from Washington State Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation (DAHP) through the Historic Preservation Fund and partly through funds from the City of Spokane.

Listed below are three required tasks and deliverables to be accomplished for the City of Spokane's Browne's Addition Neighborhood Local Historic District and to fulfill the City's grant agreement with the State of Washington. In addition, a fourth undefined task is offered as an option to allow responders to this RFP to identify any additional deliverables of a complementary nature that they could accomplish within the maximum allowed budget of $22,000.

PROJECT INTRODUCTION

This project will accomplish two large goals – first is the creation of a Spokane Register Local Historic District for the Browne's Addition Neighborhood; second is the creation of design standards for the Spokane Historic Landmarks Commission and Historic Preservation Office to use when conducting design review within the district. The neighborhood consists of approximately 350 properties which were all photographed in the summer of 2017 and entered into the WA DAHP's WISAARD database. The project will also include public outreach which can be accomplished in a variety of ways – from boots on the ground with neighborhood volunteers to social media and beyond. This is a first for the City of Spokane – an ordinance revision was passed by City Council on February 12, 2018 which allows historic district creation with a simple majority of property owner support. This project will be the inaugural district.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Browne's Addition Historic District encompasses a well-preserved residential section south of the Spokane River gorge and immediately west of the city center. It was platted in the 1880's and intensively developed for well-to-do clients around the turn of the century. Within its boundaries is a concentrated architectural aggregate including nearly every residential style fashionable in the Pacific Northwest. Moreover, the district is replete with coniferous and deciduous trees, mostly exotic stock, planted along the streets and in the neighborhood park in response to recommendations made to the Board of Park

Commissioners by Olmsted Brothers Landscape Architects of Brookline, Massachusetts in 1907 and includes Coeur d'Alene Park, the City's first park (being nominated under the Spokane Parks MPD in spring of 2018). The period of significance for the current National Register District is from 1881-1930.

From the 1930s to the 1980s, many residences were demolished to make way for smaller dwellings and modern commercial/residential intrusions. Many of the elegant mansions were altered as apartment houses. The neighborhood became rundown and crime was rampant. The 1980s and 1990s brought a resurgence of community interest when a small group of residents formed the Browne's Addition Steering Committee. With the influx of money from the city's Neighborhood Community Development Program and other federal monies, the Steering Committee worked with the city to prepare a "Browne's Addition Design Plan" which mapped out a strategy for neighborhood identity. This plan was added to the City's municipal code, but then rescinded in May of 2001 when the City's Comprehensive Plan was passed and neighborhoods were required to plan under the Growth Management Act. Since that time, Browne's has had no design review of new construction within the neighborhood boundaries. This document will provide guidance for the development of design standards during the current project.

In the 40+ years since Browne's was listed as a NRHP historic district, much change has come to the neighborhood – some of that as a result of the area being zoned as Residential High Density with a height limit of 35'. Historic homes built in the 1890s are routinely demolished to make way for high density apartment buildings with little setback. This development pressure has happened throughout the life of the neighborhood, but is seeing a resurgence with 3 "contributing" properties demolished for apartments in the past two years.

Why now? In response to recent demolitions in the neighborhood, City Council passed a 6-month demolition moratorium in Browne's Addition on April 10, 2017 (which was extended to April of 2018) in order to give the Neighborhood Council time to create a historic district. On February 12, 2018, the Spokane City Council voted to approve an update to the Historic Preservation Ordinance in the Spokane Municipal Code. This important update will allow the Spokane Historic Landmarks Commission and Historic Preservation Office to be able to create local historic districts with a simple majority of property owner support.

Required tasks and deliverables are listed below:

TASK 1

Nomination: Using the 1976 National Register Browne's Addition National Register District as a starting point, the nomination activity will consist of:

- Boundary definition/maps (they may not be the same as the NR district due to integrity, development, and loss of contributing resources)
- Period of significance determination – when the district was created in 1976, the 50 year age limit was 1926. Many properties, especially significant mid-century resources, need to be re-evaluated to determine the current period of significance. We expect that it will be expanded.

- Determination of contributing/non-contributing properties – at the time the NR district was created, several categories were created to label properties: Primary, Secondary, and Intrusions.
- Statement of Significance Section: should follow standards set out in the Spokane Register Nomination Guide
- Architectural Description/Other Features Section: should follow standards set out in the Spokane Register Nomination Guide

Deliverable: A complete digital nomination form for the Browne’s Addition Spokane Register Historic District including boundaries, maps, period of significance, statement of significance, architectural descriptions, photographs and classification of all properties as contributing/non-contributing.

TASK 2

Design Standards for Browne’s Addition: Develop new design standards that assist Browne’s Addition property owners, City staff and Spokane Historic Landmarks Commission (SHLC) members regarding appropriate design for rehabilitation of existing buildings and new construction in the Historic District, and provide training to City staff and SHLC members during the development and implementation of the new design guidelines.

The design standards will consider the existing character of the neighborhood and anticipate future changes. The goal of the design standards is to provide clear direction and guidance for bridging the existing character and future/envisioned changes. The standards should be designed to encourage high-quality urban spaces defined by a variety of building types, streetscapes, signage, public spaces, building elements, and other important architectural characteristics of this diverse neighborhood. A “Browne’s Addition Historic Neighborhood Design Plan” was created in 1984 and may be a good reference to where the neighborhood has been.

The process for the Browne’s Addition Design Standards Component is anticipated to include consultant on-site meetings, public outreach and information gathering, submission of a detailed preliminary outline, submission of first draft guidelines, public outreach and information gathering, final draft, review and approval recommendation at SHLC hearing and recommendation to City Council, adoption, and training for City staff and SHLC members. This outreach and on-site activity may take place in conjunction with the completion of the Spokane Register District nomination work.

The design standards must include the following at a minimum:

- Introduction: Include principles, intent, and detailed text which clearly communicates appropriate/inappropriate treatment approaches for building and site features
- Common styles, basic house treatments
- Design Standards:
 - Develop Standards for the review of historic structures in Browne’s Addition Historic District.
 - Strategies for existing non-contributing structures within an historic district

- New construction: Important design considerations for new buildings that include height, massing, scale, form, texture, lot coverage, setbacks, spacing of buildings, orientation, and alignment.
- Excellent visual examples which illustrate appropriate/inappropriate treatment approaches for building and site features
- All content must conform to the “Secretary of the Interior’s Standards and Guidelines for the Treatment of Historic Properties”, as well as Technical Preservation Services Preservation Briefs published by the National Park Service.
- Conduct public meeting(s) to engage and encourage input from the community.

Additional outreach and community meetings would be held to further develop the proposal and obtain feedback from as many residents as possible. A central information source, such as a web page or other innovative online tools, would be developed to facilitate community dialogue and extend outreach to those who cannot attend community meetings (see “Public Outreach –Task 3 below).

Deliverable: Browne’s Addition Design Standards in high-quality digital format as well as ten (10) bound copies.

Public Outreach: At a minimum, the consultant will be required to:

- Conduct on-site meetings with constituents to garner feedback on neighborhood goals, priorities and objectives that may be addressed through the design standards document;
- Create a survey or social media campaign to gather additional feedback on the creation of design standards (this can use the existing Historic Preservation Office website and Spokane Historic Landmarks Facebook page);
- Marketing the benefits of historic districts, and explaining the essential qualities of community design and character, architectural styles, historic preservation, and good design guidelines;
- Work with the Browne’s Addition Neighborhood Council to inform them of progress on the nomination and standards as well as cultivate volunteers for petition signatures.

Deliverable: Agenda for public meetings, report of attendance, survey, press release(s), Facebook content. Consultant will not necessarily be creating web content, but should plan to inform the Historic Preservation Office on content that we can include on social media.

TASK 4 – OPTIONAL

Responders are encouraged to present creative and complementary proposals for additional deliverables that will supplement the three required tasks but which can still be accomplished within the maximum budget for this project of $22,000.
